

Lecture 3 (Asynchronous)

I learned that project management is made of multiple knowledge areas working together (scope, time, cost, risk, and more). What stood out is that weakness in one area can affect the entire project. The examples showed me why integration and coordination matter from start to finish.