

Lecture 1 (Synchronous)

Today I understood project management as a way to reach a goal while balancing time, cost, and resources. I also realized why projects are different from routine work: they are temporary, unique, and involve stakeholders. The lecture made me notice how planning and the right tools can increase the chance of success.